Simran Kaur, Owner.

We wish for you to share in some of that unearned Grace, so you too can find it – Joy infused and Divinely inspired – in your own Life.

Our Story

1920

Originally known as Morgado, meaning “dear”, Amrapali ♦ House of Grace was built a century ago by Casimiro Honorato de Siqueira Nazare for his wife Maria Gracias and their five children. In this home the family lived and loved for many years.

2014

In 2014 the restoration of Amrapali began with the vision for it to be a space where one returns to their innate peaceful and joyful nature. The original structure was respected and recreated wherever possible. Local artisans were engaged and encouraged to custom make every detail seen in this exquisite home.

2019

We want you to be nourished by that which brings you to life and increases your energy and power. Come relax in the curated experience that is Amrapali.

The Amrapali Experience

Within spaces designed to make you forget the outside world, our goal is to ensconce you in total ease and comfort, inspiring your natural state of grace. Spend tea time around the pool for a front seat to the orchestra of tropical birdsong or sunset on the waterfront verandah with breeze thick with the fragrance of jasmine.

Whether you choose to stay in or out, we will tailor your stay to suit your particular needs. Welcome to your best life.
